Press Release:

When asked about the recent southward moves of the Austrian people, King Finn replied: "The Austrians are a nomadic people, and we need room to roam; stomping grounds, as it were."

That's all of them.

EDITOR'S CORNER:

I seem to have less and less time these days, so you will just have to be patient about the zine's punctuality. However I do intend to allow ample time for diploming. However all things considered I am going to try to get this thing (rag sheet) out as soon as possible. -sph
